About the Alliance

The Colorectal Cancer Alliance exists to end this disease in our lifetime. Founded in 1999 by a group of volunteer advocates, the Alliance is now the largest nonprofit dedicated to colorectal cancer in the world. Every day, we revolutionize research, treatment, awareness, and prevention to save lives. Through community-based interventions, cutting-edge research, and innovative patient-centric cancer care programs, the Alliance is driving real change. The Blue Hope Bash makes action possible, raising funds to ensure more people survive colorectal cancer.

STRATEGIC GOALS:

Raise the screening rate to 80%
and save 100,000 lives

Improve the five-year survival rate of mCRC from 13% to 35%

Invest and influence $500 million
in CRC research

2026 CRC IL Projections

6,160 estimated cases in 2026
for Men and Women in Illinois

2,080 estimated CRC deaths in 2026
for Men and Women in Illinois

ONE GOAL:
END COLORECTAL
CANCER WITHIN OUR LIFETIME

Our Lifesaving Work

We advocate for prevention to save lives.

We magnify support to improve outcomes. We accelerate research to end this disease. Each year, we deliver tens of thousands of screening recommendations, provide thousands of test kits and colonoscopies to high-risk individuals, and share the power of prevention through targeted media, partnerships, and events.

We magnify support to improve outcomes.

The Alliance provides one-on-one navigation through our free Helpline and chat, streamlines access to support and resources through our patient and caregiver hub BlueHQ, and builds community with online and on-the-ground activations and programs.

We accelerate research to end this disease.

Project Cure CRC is assembling the largest colorectal cancer patient registry in the world; fast-tracking new therapies; funding high-risk, high-reward science; and innovating patient care. By combining powerful science, vast patient data, and a nationwide network, we can shift from incremental progress to transformational change.

Yearlong Impact

20,164 patients assisted via live or clinical navigation, identifying 45,000 barriers to care

13,348 participants in the Walk to End Colon Cancer across 16 cities

22 researchers funded by Project Cure CRC

87,528 hours of ally volunteerism

21,171 test recommendations provided via the screening quiz

7 billion impressions across all media

1,490 comfort bags given to patients at cancer centers

THE BLUE HOPE BASH: FIVE YEARS STRONG

Sponsorship of the Blue Hope Bash is more than support for an event - it is investment in progress and saving lives.

On Friday, May 1, 2026, the Colorectal Cancer Alliance will gather at Galleria Marchetti to celebrate the 5th Anniversary Blue Hope Bash Chicago, our signature Illinois event. This milestone evening brings the community together to honor those facing colorectal cancer, remember those we have lost, celebrate survivorship, and advance critical work in prevention, patient and caregiver support, and research. Guests can expect a meaningful night of entertainment, cocktails and dining, and transformative impact through the power of philanthropy, along with special anniversary moments and thoughtful surprises throughout the evening.

The evening will feature two powerful voices. Mike Lowe, the Compassion Speaker, is an Emmy Award-winning general assignment reporter for WGN-TV and was named Journalist of the Year by the Chicago Journalists Association in 2024.

Mike Lowe

Greg Schwem

Diagnosed with colorectal cancer in 2024, Mike has since used his wide-reaching platform to raise awareness about the life-saving importance of early detection and screening. The program will be emceed by Greg Schwem, a nationally recognized comedian, bestselling author, and colorectal cancer survivor whose humor, candor, and personal experience bring warmth and inspiration to the night.
